

HEDS is a community of colleges and universities committed to sharing data, knowledge, and expertise to advance undergraduate liberal arts education, inclusive excellence, and student success.

Actionable Surveys

We designed our surveys to assess the quality and impact of your institution. HEDS surveys cover a range of topics from the expectations of new students to campus climate. Our helpful staff will administer the surveys for you, provide personal support, and send ready-to-share reports with useful comparison data.

Data

Informative Data Exchanges

HEDS institutions share institutional data to improve their effectiveness. HEDS data exchanges are designed to inform decisions at our institutions on common issues such as financial aid, postgraduate outcomes, and more.

Community

The HEDS community is built on an atmosphere of trust, a willingness to help one another, and the recognition that we can all learn from one another regardless of the kind of institution we call home. Our knowledgeable and engaged community can provide you with guidance on anything from last-minute reporting needs to larger issues such as accreditation or general education assessment.

HEDS is a collaborative community. We work with our members to develop or revise surveys, data exchanges, and other services that help you gather the data and knowledge you need. We also offer opportunities such as the HEDS Student Success Champions Program, Workshop on Student Success, and Research Projects for people from member institutions to collaborate and learn from one another.
